TOWN MEETING NOVEMBER 2nd

Grayling Program to Discuss 1978 Ballot Proposals

When you go to the polls to vote on November 7th, you will be asked not only to select those candidates you want to represent you, but also to decide the fate of eleven different ballot proposals. Since these proposals are of importance to the public policy in our state and communities, it is crucial that your decision to vote "yes" or "no" on each of them is based upon a thorough knowledge and understanding of their content, purpose and appearance on the ballot.

To assist you in this most important decision making process, the Grayling Community School Program has scheduled what they are billing as a "Town Meeting". This event will be held in the Grayling High School Auditorium on Thursday evening, November 2. The meeting will be called to order at 7:30 p.m. Appearing at that meeting will be several knowledgeable people who work on the Lansing scene and have a good understanding of the ballot issues. These people will deliver an impartial explanation of each of the eleven ballot issues. They will present arguments on both pro and con and also present to you an idea of what impact their passage would have upon the public and financial policy of the State of Michigan and your local community.

All residents of the Grayling and surrounding area are cordially invited to attend this free public meeting on November 2nd. After the speaker presentations there will be ample time for questions. Also, material concerning each of the eleven ballot issues will be available in written form at the meeting. Persons appearing on the program represent such organizations as the Michigan School Board Association, the League of Women Voters, the Michigan Prosecuting Attorney's Association, the Michigan State Police and the Michigan Department of Transportation.

Fund Campaign Tops 50% Mark Hospital Construction Project "On Target"

by Joe Schrader

The $8 million dollar construction project is "on target", according to campaign officials and construction supervisors involved in the project which will dramatically improve health care for the area the facility services. Jack Witter, Fund-raising Campaign Director and Sister Mary Hilda, RSM, Hospital Administrator, announced on Monday that the local campaign to raise $500,000 had topped the 50% point, with over $251,000 in pledges received so far. Gloria Kraus and Ron Fraser, both of Grayling, are in charge of the fund drive.

Al Schou, Construction Superintendent for Moorhead, Shoe, Inc., general contractor for the building project said also on Monday that the project was moving according to schedule. He said that site work had essentially been completed, underground work, for example, was done, parking areas pretty much set and the Connine St. entranceway completed. He predicted that the roof for the new facility would be in place about mid-November and work on the interior would continue through the winter months. Work to be continued inside after the building is enclosed will include sheet metal, plumbing, heating, partition installation, etc., according to Schou. Moorhead, Shoe, Inc. is responsible for the overall management of hospital construction and renovation. The company hires trade contractors to perform all the necessary work required, consistent with providing the hospital with the [See Hospital on page 2]

Michigan Con: "Office Closing Plan Not Irreversible"

by Joe Schrader

Termed a meeting designed "to explore other possible options," Lew Case, Michigan Northern District General Manager, hosted a gathering of concerned local officials and citizens last Thursday afternoon in a session that lasted almost two hours in the Company's conference room.

The Gas Company recently announced that the Grayling Office would be phased out about a year from now in an economy move that would ultimately result in the construction of a new facility in West Branch, designed to serve customers in the Crawford County area. Closing of the Tawas office is also included in the company plan.

The Thursday meeting was the result of a recent visit to Mich-Con's Detroit facility by representatives from the Chamber of Commerce and the City and called by the company for the purpose of outlining its rationale on the relocation move and to hear public sentiment on the matter.

"I hope you understand we're concerned about Grayling," commented Case, "we know Grayling will be hard-hit if we move but we're still open to other alternatives. Nonetheless, somebody is going to be hurt in the process."

Results of a year-long study, according to Case, indicates that a West Branch office can more than adequately serve an area now serviced by the Tawas and [See Mich-Con on page 2] their arraignment in 83rd District Court.

The breaking and enterings are believed to have occurred over the past three weeks and involved unoccupied, seasonal homes, according to Sheriff Curt Haas. A Sheriff's Dept. spokesman said that most of the property had been recovered. Ironically, a large share was recovered from citizens who had purchased the stolen goods at "bargain" prices. Haas estimated conservatively that the recovered loot amounted to well over $3000. Typical examples of items recovered in the investigation [See Theft Ring on page 2]

Showing Progress

Jeff Osga has been transferred to Saginaw Community Hospital in Saginaw. This is a rehabilitation hospital, to help the patients adjust to their new change.

With the nice weather, Jeff has been able to spend time outside. He still has a blood clot in one leg, so he has to keep his legs elevated. Once this has gone down, he will be able to learn how to transfer himself in and out of a car.

He goes to therapy twice a day and is anxious to get home.

Grayling facilities. Two other undisclosed offices will be closed too, according to Case, in a company decision. He said, "that was not made just overnight."

In pleas to save the Grayling office, a number of citizens expressed doubt that service to the area could be adequately maintained and a number of alternate suggestions for the gas company were offered. Some of which seemed to stimulate some interest with Case. "Even if Crawford County doubles or triples in size, though," commented Bob Stone, who will be responsible for the Grayling District, "we'll be able to service our customers without any problem."

Walt Nowak, Chamber of Commerce Manager, indicated to Case that the group in attendance was not a pressure group, but one dedicated to keeping business within the Crawford County area.

Population statistics for the 5-county area the West Branch office is expected to service were reviewed, along with projected increases for each county. Population of Crawford County was projected at 9,900 by 1980, increasing to 13,000 residents by 1990. Largest increase in population in the 5-county area is anticipated in Roscommon County, one of five to be serviced by the anticipated new West Branch facility.

"I've heard some things a little different than before," commented Case as the session concluded, and he promised the gathering that he would undertake further investigation into the proposed plan to close down the Grayling office. "I don't think the company's decision is irreversible," he commented, "but I'm not optimistic about making a change at this point in time, though."

Closing of the Grayling office would affect some 21 employees, although earlier the company indicated that perhaps five or six would be retained on the payroll in this area. Fate of the existing building is also a question mark at the present as well.

tion include a Ben Franklin Stove, a generator valued at $1200, household items, a gun, a toilet stool, and, in one case, carpeting that had been stripped from the floor of a residence.

The investigation and subsequent arrests were prompted by information provided to the Sheriff's Dept. by an unidentified source, whom Haas credited as being "extremely helpful in our investigation."

In view of the increasing amount of B&E's being reported in Crawford County, Sheriff Haas cautions all residents to be extremely cautious when offered bargain values on household items. "You may be buying your neighbor's property," he warns. "In fact," he said, "you could possibly end up being charged with receiving and concealing stolen property in some cases."

In unrelated events, the Sheriff's Dept. reported a relatively calm "Devil's Night" with only minor reports of vandalism being reported throughout the community.

The Promise:

"Until all citizens of this state are provided with an opportunity to hold a job, the creation of additional permanent employment will be my administration's number one priority."

The Performance:

Total employment since 1970 in northern Michigan has increased by 40 percent—one of the fastest growth rates in the nation.

The Promise:

"As a native of northern Michigan, I have maintained an unwavering commitment to this area of the state throughout my career. That commitment continues whether it is in pursuit of balanced growth, saving the railroads or building better roads."

The Performance:

Northern Michigan now is experiencing unprecedented population gains and community growth. The region's total transportation network is regarded as a model which other states are following. The Milliken administration has saved more than 800 miles of railroad track that would otherwise have been abandoned in outstate Michigan.

The Promise:

"We will maintain a balance which will allow for creation of jobs without destroying those qualities which have made northern Michigan such a desirable place to live."

The Performance:

The Milliken administration has fought nuclear dumping and Seafarer. It has made Michigan one of the first states to ban throwaway beverage containers. It has targeted more than $1.2 billion to clean up Michigan waters.

The Promise:

"Just as a family must live within its means, government, too, must not spend more than it collects in revenues."

The Performance:

Tax cuts initiated by Gov. Milliken saved Michigan taxpayers $500 million this year alone. Michigan has been living within the limits proposed in the tax limitation proposal which Milliken supports.

What Does Phil Ruppe Say About Rod Brown?

"A legislator can be most effective when he finds out how his constituents feel about the issues and when he takes the time to learn about how government works. Rod Brown clearly possesses this essential knowledge. He knows the 'inside mechanics' of state government, having served as Senator Davis' Executive Assistant. We need to make sure, when we cast our votes this November, that we elect a State Senator who knows and cares about how we feel and who knows how to make the Legislature and governmental agencies respond to our needs. We need Rod Brown in the State Senate." — Congressman Philip E. Ruppe

From Our Corner ...

We hope our diligent readers did not sit back this past week awaiting the knowledgeable answers to the questions that Michigan voters will have to answer come next Tuesday, no way. We haven't made up our own mind let alone try to tell our readers the candidates and proposals that this is the way they should cast their ballot.

We have tried to bring articles pertaining to the election, notices of meetings ... how some writers have made their decisions on certain proposals, besides the page in last week's issue on the proposals for our readers to study, and if space permits we hope to use the portion of the ballot on how the proposals will appear in the voting machine this week.

The main thing is to get out and exercise your right to vote ... There are many the world over that do not have this privilege.

Last Thursday was sort of a bummer for the ol' fella ... In the afternoon we attended a meeting at the Michigan Con Gas office here with a hopeful attitude that the company had possibly reconsidered moving out of Grayling.

The Grayling representatives put forth quite a few alternative moves to keep the big company's facilities here ... but, somehow when it was all over, even with assurance that more studies would be made before a final decision ... we came away with the feeling the afternoon was wasted ...

... Then came the evening. We attended the Grayling Rotary Club's annual Minstrel Show, and were humiliated before a packed house by being dragged to the stage and made fun of ... This was even after we had tried some of their orange pop and found it doesn't even come close to our usual ...

We received some solace ... We heard after the show, if they hadn't included us in their act the performance would have been a flop ... but then, Thelma always has been a bit prejudiced ...

Would you believe, and we hate to admit it, but if you are interested, we passed one more milestone over the weekend which gives us the advantage of not having to be sneaky this time ... We had visitors Sunday, namely, T. J., Stef, mom and dad along with Black Bart, the family's pet ...

As we think about it, if one has to have a birthday, we are happy ours came just prior to Halloween ... it gives us an excuse for some of the devil we sometimes expulse ... but more important, our gift from John was putting up the storm windows ... Fall birthdays do have their advantage, especially when you're in the fall of life. Everything is fine with our California family ... Cyd and Amber are OK, Dane also passed a milestone Sunday, as did our favorite grand-nephew, Cory Neilson, he was two, add 28 for Dane, and forget about me ...

Have a nice weekend ... and remember, if you lived in some countries, no way would you have the privilege you have on Tuesday, November 7th ... Use It ...

ACT Assessment Program

The ACT Assessment Program is used by individuals who plan to pursue postsecondary education. It is also important for colleges and universities that seek to effectively meet their students' academic and extracurricular needs.

The guidance-oriented program includes an academic examination, a personal questionnaire, and an interest inventory. Students complete the personal questionnaire and interest inventory at home as part of the registration process. The examination is composed of four subject area tests (English, math, social studies, and natural sciences) and takes about three hours to complete. It is administered on five national test dates each year at more than 2,900 test centers throughout the world. The fee for using the ACT Assessment will remain the same, $7.50 for the fourth consecutive year.

ACT Assessment test dates and registration periods for the 1978-79 academic year are:

Test Dates	Registration Periods
October 21, 1978	August 7 - September 22
December 9, 1978	October 9 - November 10
February 10, 1979	November 27 - January 12

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

Bible Instructions
On Worship
Revelation 22:8-9

The Bible makes it very plain what and who a person may bow down before in worship!

"And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God." Rev. 22:8-9.

John was rebuked for worshipping at the feet of an angel. John was certainly not worshipping the angel, but it was still wrong to worship God by bowing down at the feet of an angel. In fact, the ten commandments of Exodus 20 forbids the worship of God by even bowing before the image of anything in Heaven or earth. "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me." Exodus 20:4,5.

Since it is wrong to bow down in worship before any idol or image of any kind, or any angel, we must conclude that it is even more wrong to bow down before any human being in worship. It is "at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth: And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the Glory of God the Father." Phil. 2:10,11. We are only to worship God.

Many lessons are available to us in these verses. Even an aged apostle who had served Jesus all his life could make a serious mistake in worship. How careful we should be to bow our knees only to God. As it was easy for John to get his eyes on an angel because he carried a revelation from God, so we may be blinded by a man who claims to carry a message from God. We cannot worship God by proxy through another person. Worship only God! (adv.) Pastor Barnett

Road Commission Minutes

October 20, 1978

A regular meeting of the Crawford County Road Commission held in their office in Grayling, Chairman Millikin presiding. Present were Chairman LeRoy Millikin, Ervin E. Richter, Grover Cason, Manager Charles Fox, Secretary Lorna Bernard. Absent, Ron Herneke, Engineer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, Ervin Richter made a motion to accept the minutes as read, seconded by Grover Cason. All in favor, motion carried.

A discussion was held and a decision was made to order a testing meter for the electrical systems in the trucks.

A permit was received from Consumers Power Company to install 2-40 ft. poles, 2 ft. within road right of way and to install wire. Also, to cut and trim trees for primary wire clearance, at approximately 400 ft. South of Pollack Bridge Rd. on S. Ausable Trail. The permit was reviewed and accepted by the Board.

At this time the Board broke for lunch and upon returning at 1:00 p.m.:

Dan Smith, from the energy commission in Crawford County, appeared before the Board asking to do a study on the energy used at the Road Commission. This study is to improve the usage of energy and to cut down on the waste. The Board gave its approval to go ahead with the study and that full cooperation would be given to him.

Carolyn Sulfeld appeared before the Board regarding Barclay Road. A sign was put up renaming the road. A letter will be sent to the subdivision that put up the sign asking them to remove it, and the road will remain as Barclay Road.

A contract for Robson Schuette and Hutchison was approved by the Board for the 1978-79 season.

Grover Cason made a motion to close the doors for a personnel meeting, seconded by Ervin Richter. All voted in favor, motion carried, door closed.

A resolution was made by the Road Commission in supporting Proposal M. In this time, when we all want to keep taxes to a minimum consistent with providing necessary services, it is important that we protect the user fee concept. We can help to do this by voting yes on Proposal M. This proposal limits the highway funds to 10% for other modes of transportation other than maintenance of roads.

There being no further business, Ervin Richter made a motion to adjourn, seconded by Grover Cason. All voted in favor, motion carried.

LeRoy Millikin, Chairman
Lorna Bernard, Secretary

She attended Olivet College, then became interested in speech therapy and transferred to Western Michigan University and studied speech pathology and audiology. After graduation, she worked for COOR as a speech therapist assigned to the Crawford Ausable Schools. The next 4 years were spent teaching in Frederic. She enjoys her present position of Chapter 3 consultant in the school district working with teachers who have students who are below grade level. Marti and her husband, Pete, enjoy traveling in the summer and cross country skiing in the winter.

Happy birthday was sung to Betty Smith, Sally Wert, and Connie Creighton. Two new members were initiated - Carolyn DiPonio and Marti Ingvarsson. Karen Curtis was welcomed as a transfer from down state to the Grayling chapter. Next meeting is scheduled for November 21st at the Holiday Inn.

CARD OF THANKS

The people of Grayling have known for a long time how much interest Helen Catlin has taken in her old home town, but to what extent we just recently found out.

Helen drove from Toledo, Ohio to attend the Alumni Banquet here, which is not unusual. But, what was unusual was that her car was loaded, back seat, front seat and trunk, with merchandise to bring a Merry Christmas to our less fortunate families in this area.

Helen read in the Avalanche the plea of Crawford County Community Services for donations of yarn, materials and handmade items. She arrived with all of them, as well as clothing and children's gifts.

When there is a real need one can span great distances for assistance.

Thank you Helen.
Susan Noteware and the Crawford Co. Community Svcs.

Highlighting the unit of study was a visit by Mr. Dean Welch and Mr. Dan Brandes from the Frederic Volunteer Fire Dept. Mr. Welch and Mr. Brandes "just happened" to bring the Frederic Fire Truck with them and each child was given an opportunity to see the fire truck close up. Mr. Welch and Mr. Brandes explained how the truck worked, visited the children's classrooms to answer questions and talk to the children about fire safety, and lastly, invited the children to visit the fire hall. We thank Mr. Welch and Mr. Brandes for their time in helping us in our study of fire prevention.

THANK YOU TO A TOWNSHIP WITH A BIG HEART

There is no amount of words that can express our thanks and gratitude for all that the wonderful people of Maple Forest Township have done for us during our recent adversity. To those who donated money, food and the time and effort to organize the wood cutting bee to bring in our winter's supply of wood, a very special thank you and God's Blessings. It is a tremendous relief to know that when in need, there are such kind and wonderful people you can count on. Again, thank you all so very, very much.

Parents Night this Friday Northmen Whitewash Vikings, 42-0

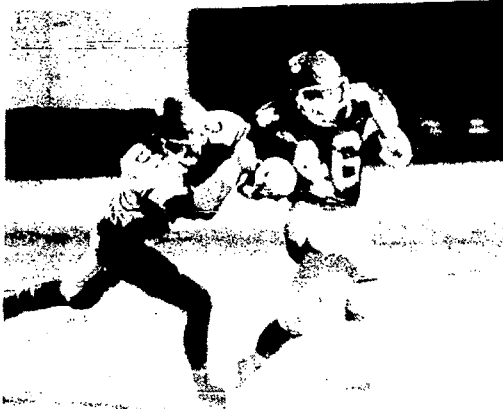

by Joe Schrader

The Viking Varsity squad traveled north to Petoskey last Friday night for an MHS-conference contest and got stunned by the Northmen, 42-0. "The score makes it look like a Petoskey runaway," commented Klinger after the game, "but really our kids didn't play all that bad."

The Vikes, nursing a 2-6 season record, will host Boyne City this Friday night in the annual Parent's Night Contest. Kickoff time is set for 8 p.m. and all Viking fans are urged to attend.

In Friday's loss to Petoskey, the Northmen rolled up an 18-0 halftime lead and never let up in its whitewash over the Vikes. Grayling pounded out 136 yards on the ground, added 13 more in the air for total yardage of 149 yards. Rocky Tobin, running out of the halfback position, was the leading ground-gainer for Grayling, with 89 yards while Mark Kibbe added another forty. Defensively, Klinger cited Matt Mahaney for 8 tackles and Chuck Goinick with five. Louie Middleton, Skip Olsen and Todd Dunkley added four apiece.

In JV action, Petoskey rolled into town and headed back north with a 16-6 victory over Grayling. After a scoreless first quarter, the Northmen tacked 16 points on the board before halftime and held on for the victory. Dwayne Bloos scored the only Viking TD.

The Grayling Vike Freshman squad, led by coaches Mike Branch and Mike Smith, increased its record to 6-0-1 following last week's win

11 decisions in 2 minutes

Richard Millman

By law, Michigan voters can spend only 2 minutes in the voting booth on November 7. It may take that long just to read the 11 statewide proposals, which make the Michigan ballot one of the most complicated in recent history.

Folks have asked how I intend to vote on these proposals, and, in keeping with past practice, the Almanack here-with reveals its author's intentions, without attempting to convince anyone else or even to justify his own decisions. Here goes:

Proposal A is for calling a Constitutional Convention, with any revision of the Constitution to be submitted to the voters for ratification. Although the complexity of this year's ballot is the most convincing argument that some changes need to be made in Michigan's Constitution, I'm going to vote NO. We've had the present Constitution only 16 years, and the referendum system, although cumbersome, works.

Proposal B would prohibit granting parole until at least the minimum sentence has been served for certain crimes of violence or crimes resulting in injury to persons or damage to property. This is a law-and-order type of proposal, and personally I think it's time for more stringent controls in some of these areas, so I'm voting YES.

Proposal C would permit the deposit of state funds in savings and loan associations and credit unions as well as banks. There hasn't been much exposure of this proposal, but I'm going to vote NO. The present system works all right. I might see extending deposits to savings and loan associations, but credit unions should be off limits for deposit of public funds, it seems to me. They're non-profit by design, they enjoy certain tax breaks as opposed to banks, and they're more limited in scope by their nature. Credit unions are just different types of organizations than banks. Let's leave well enough alone.

Proposal D is the drinking age amendment. I'm in favor of full citizenship for young folks, including the right to drink if they want to drink. It's only fair. Sure, some young adults can't handle alcohol at age 19 or 20; but some older folks can't handle it at age 30 or 40, either. Raising the drinking age to 19 helps keep alcohol out of high schools, and that's all right. But beyond that, it simply isn't fair to youth to limit their adult rights in this solitary way. I'm voting NO.

Proposal E is the Headlee Amendment. As explained last week, I'm voting YES.

Proposal G would allow collective bargaining with binding arbitration for state police. I'm voting NO. Although collective bargaining for public employees seems to be embraced these days, I still cannot accommodate my thinking to encourage public employees -- and especially law enforcement personnel -- to bargain. No matter how you cut it, collective bargaining can only be effective when the strike, or possibility of strike, are part of the bargaining tools. If you ask me, I'm opposed to it; this amendment asks me, so I'm voting NO.

Proposal H is the so-called Voucher System. I'm voting YES, as indicated last week.

Proposal J is the so-called Tisch Amendment. Again, as explained last week, my vote is YES.

Proposal K would permit courts to deny bail for up to 90 days in certain violent crimes. This is another "get tough" proposal, and I think it might help, so I'm voting YES.

Proposal M is part of the "Transportation Package" recently approved by the Legislature, which is centered on a 2-cent gas tax increase. Proposal M provides that at least 90 percent of gas and weight tax be used exclusively for "general road purposes", and that the other 10 percent -- plus up to 25 percent of sales taxes on cars and parts -- be used for "other transportation purposes," meaning mass transit and buses and rail and harbors and the like. In addition, the state highway commission would be changed somewhat in its composition. Although I was not in favor of the "Transportation Package" when it went through the Legislature, I'm going to vote YES on this proposal -- although I reserve the right to change my mind on election day.

Proposal R would create a Railroad Redevelopment Authority to make loans to Michigan railroads and pledge the full faith and credit of the state behind the loans, with a $175 million ceiling. The purpose, as I understand it, is to help save the railroads. Personally, I don't think $175 million will do the job, and if there should be survival problems even with the state-guaranteed loans, who'd end up holding the bag? It seems to me there are too many holes in this idea, so I'm voting NO.

So there you have it ... statements of 11 intentions. Please make up your own mind. I don't contend I'm right, or that my conclusions are justified or even the slightest bit smart. But, as long as you asked, that's how I intend to vote.

And I think I can do it in less than two minutes, too.

On October 14th at 2:00 p.m. at the Free Methodist Church in Grayling, Carol Lee Hiveley and David R. Brannan exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony. Pastor Steven A. Bach officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hiveley of Grayling. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Brannan of Kalkaska.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father. Her wedding dress was of ivory polyester tulle with a chiffon overlay. Her veil was fingertip length with matching lace, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and gardenias.

Cathy Potter, sister of the bride, was Matron of Honor. She wore a floor length dress of three tiers of apricot polyester, with a round marquisette yoke that dropped over the shoulders with a matching picture hat of apricot. Susan Brannan, sister of the groom, was Jr. Bridesmaid. She wore a matching apricot dress and hat. They both carried a bouquet of silk flowers with fall colors.

Shannon Robson of Mt. Clemens was flower girl in a long dress of baby blue polyester with chiffon sleeves. She carried a basket of rose petals.

The Best Man was Daniel Hiveley brother of the bride. Daniel Brannan served as the groomsman for his brother. Darrell Brannan and Timothy Pierson, cousins of the groom, were Ushers. John Mark Hiveley served as ring bearer. He wore a light blue tuxedo and carried an ivory satin pillow.

Lansing Report

Rep. Ralph Ostling

HOME HEATING RELIEF ... Governor Milliken signed into law last week a bill that will give a break of some $51 million in home heating relief to more than 500,000 Michigan households.

Under the new law, which will take immediate effect, claimants will file for home heating credit when they file their 1978 state income tax forms.

An eligible claimant, whether a renter or homeowner, will be able to file for a credit against any income tax liability he or she may owe. The credits range from $200 for a claimant with one exemption on the state income tax or property tax credit forms to $370 for a family with six or more exemptions. In each case, 3.5 percent of the household income is subtracted from the allowable credit.

If no income tax is owed, or if the credit exceeds the income tax owed, the claimant will receive money from the state.

The program applies only to the 1978 tax year, but the Governor said he is hopeful the legislature will also approve his five-year energy assistance program.

I believe this program is a good one and am glad to see that it rewards energy-conscious citizens in these times of limited supplies of fuel, especially during Michigan's winter months.

Wolf Tale

Many men work many years to keep the wolves from their door. Then, a daughter grows up and brings one right into the house!

Kirtland Community College is presenting the play "Gammer Gurton's Needle". The play is a slapstick comedy that takes place in a sixteenth century hamlet and centers around an old woman who loses her most prized possession: a steel needle. All of the characters get involved in the search amid arguments, accusations, and outright fights.

Performances will be at 12:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Thursday, November 2, and 8 p.m. on Saturday, November 4. Ticket prices are: students, $.75 advance and $.25 at the door; adults, $1.25 advance and $1.75 at the door.

Tickets are available at Roscommon Hardware, The Village Shop in Roscommon, Gould's Drugs and Radio Shack, both in West Branch, and at the KCC library and bookstore.

In addition, there will be a special dinner theatre performance at the KCC Student Center on Friday, November 3 at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $4.00 per person and are available by reservation only.

For reservations call 275-5121, extension 276.

PERHAPS

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a floral piece, if so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as any friend could say
Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts
We thank you so much whatever the part.

G.H.S. Alumni Homecoming 78

The crowd was small and congenial at our Annual Homecoming event on Saturday, October 21. Registration started at 5:30 p.m. at Auman's House of Catering. A tasty Swiss Steak dinner was served at 7 p.m.

President Tony Doremire opened the program with a welcome to all Alumni and guests. The Golden Anniversary Class of '28 was introduced: Martha Bidvia Speight, Hazel Hunter Haines, Isbrand Harder, Paul Hendrickson.

Next we recognized our oldest Alumna present: Altha Nielsen Heric, class of '13 - her 65th Anniversary and her birthday. We sang "Happy Birthday" and presented a red rose to her.

Other anniversary years were recognized by these Alumni present: Class of '33, Madonna Cariveau LaMotte, Lucille Larson Longstreet, Clifford Malloy, Floyd San Cartier, Lois Sorenson LaGrow, Bill LaGrow, Class of '38: Ruth Benware Glance, Dewey Coult, Marie LaMotte Akers, Beatrice Peterson Rowland, Class of '43: Donna Millikin Feltman, Class of '48: Erwin Owens, Class of '58: Susan Bidvia Ballinger, Class of '68, Sandra Millikin.

Tony introduced our new Superintendent, Dr. William Diedrich and his wife, Maxine. A few words from him made us feel his sincerity. A big job lies ahead of him and we will support him.

G.H.S. Alumni teachers present were introduced: Clara Nelson Sales, '14; Carrie Feldhauser Baynham, '27; Jean Peterson Goltro, '35; Beatrice Peterson Rowland, '38; Marie LaMotte Akers, '38; Mary Joseph Knibbs, '40; Fay Christenson Boyce, '42; Carl Hatfield, '54. Others: Peg Milnes, Bruce Smith and Bob Boyce. Bob retired early this year after 29 years as teacher, driver, instructor, counselor. Tony presented him with a memento from G.H.S. Alumni. Our thanks to Bob.

Our Honor Guest was Betty Felling Millikin, '41. She was accompanied by her husband, Floyd, '41; her daughter, Sandra, '68; her sister-in-law, Donna Millikin Feltman, '43 and husband, Giles. As I've said before, Betty served 31 years in the School Office. How "Sweet" it would have been if she could have used the adding machine and typewriter that was on her table Saturday night ... they were cakes ... made by Mary Leninger Goss, '70, who had worked with her in the Administration Office. Very simply, Betty told us she had always liked her work and those she worked for. We gave her a golden jewel box as a remembrance from us. Thank you, Betty.

As usual, we stood and sang our theme song to end the program, our former School Song, "Grayling Will Shine Tonight." (Just imagine Grayling sings it now!!!) Patty and Mike Pittman played music for dancing to finish the evening. They are really good. We now look forward to Homecoming '79.

Singing About Halloween - Boo

This week our voices are taking on some very special sounds. Halloween causes us to mix some strange noises with our singing. How do you sing BOO? You don't! You say it - in a loud voice. If Halloween teaches us anything, as a Music Teacher, I appreciate the lesson of noises versus singing. It is not always easy to switch from a noise we are making for the laughter of a witch to a singing voice praising the virtues of Halloween. We learn to do this and, hopefully hear the difference.

It is so much fun to sing and make noises, and Halloween allows us this luxury. The Kindergarten, First, and Second graders even become pumpkins sitting on a gate. A favorite fantasy of the children when we sing our pumpkin song is to actually be a pumpkin. You would not believe how gratifying being a pumpkin can be for a child.

Some of the children can sing you a Halloween song and you will not hear it. Ask your child to sing "Pumpkin, Pumpkin" using his or her inner hearing. The child will hear the song, but you will not, at least, not all of it. Sometimes we call this using our inner hearing, and sometimes we call it making our brain work. Anyway, we were surprised to realize that we can sing without using our voices.

In the midst of all this would you believe we are beginning preparation for the Christmas Concert? Enough! It is Halloween and we love to sing about it. The scarier we can make the songs and the atmosphere - the better. BOO!

Mrs. Peggy Emerick
Music Teacher

Power Scare

Electric power needs in the United States alone are expected to triple within the next 25 years.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

They say you don't really know a man until you've walked a mile in his shoes.

Maybe it's impossible to know our own children because we can't fit into their shoes.

Our sons and daughters at every level of growth have needs which depend for fulfillment on our awareness. One of these is their need for early and continuing religious education.

The Church is your ally in providing your youngsters moral and spiritual training. The initiative must come from you. And the example. But the Church's educational program can be a decisive factor in fashioning your child's future.

Bring your child to church this Sunday!

Phone 348-8521Yesterdays Energy Today*PART II*About Fireplaces

If you are trying to decide whether to build a fireplace into your home or install a wood-burning stove, consider the following: The net fuel efficiency of the average fireplace is zero! That is, fireplaces often drain as much heat out of a house through the chimney as they provide in the form of radiant heat to the building itself. The open front of a fireplace and the open draft, as long as a fire is burning at all, provides an excellent heat drain out of your house.

The efficiency of a fireplace can be raised to as high as 25 percent if a heat exchanger system is built into the unit and tight fitting glass doors are attached to the front. "Tube grates" also improve efficiency a bit, but tend to burn out in a short time. Still, no matter what you do to a fireplace, it will still burn up about four times more wood than an efficient and less expensive woodstove, and will deliver much less heat into the home.

About Woodstoves

Now this is important stuff: A good stove can provide, for use in your home, 50 to 75 percent of the heat energy contained in the wood you buy. The other 25 to 50 percent goes up the flue and is lost. So you want to work toward that 75 percent figure, and that's done by choosing the right stove to fit your conditions.

There are two basic types of woodstoves — airtight and open. Open stoves look pretty, but they are generally less efficient, somewhat like fireplaces.

Airtight stoves have doors that close and small vents that open just a bit to allow enough air to enter so the wood burns. Some stoves have two vents, one at the bottom and another someplace else, this second designed to create "secondary combustion". What happens is this: As the wood burns, volatile gases are given off. These gases require four times as much air as it takes to burn your wood down to the charcoal stage. That means air entering at the bottom of a stove is used up before it can reach those upper gases — some of which you see burning as yellow flames. So the task is to get more air to those upper gases. And to do that, some stoves have direct air inlets in the upper part of the stove, while others have a "secondary combustion chamber" on top or at the back or side of a stove, and these may or may not help you.

If you want to fill your stove with big logs and have it burn long and slow, then you probably need a secondary combustion chamber, or some means of getting secondary air to the hot gases. But these gases may cool too much if the secondary chamber is too far away from the gaseous "upper part" of the fire. As a rough rule, secondary air is usually helpful only when introduced where flames already exist.

Secondary combustion chambers should be baffled, or somehow designed to make the gases and flames swirl and mix all of which improves combustion. If a secondary chamber works well, it can mean a difference of 10 percent greater efficiency over other closed stoves. Also, the longer flame path of such stoves means more heat can be transferred to the larger surface of the stove, and then in turn be transferred to the room itself.

Heat Exchangers?

Another efficiency-gaining device is a heat exchanger, which is a sort of metal box or bulb connected to the stovepipe between the stove and the wall outlet. These add more baffling and metal surface area to capture more heat before the hot gases go out the chimney. But they aren't very attractive, they gum up with dangerous creosote quickly, and cleaning them is messy.

A Draft for Humans

Remember too that wood fires drain oxygen from the air inside a building, which can gradually make you drowsy. Open a basement window part way or let in some fresh air occasionally to offset this loss. This article will be continued. (Reprinted from The Michigan Natural Resources Magazine).

Mayflower Society
Celebrates Compact Day

In November 1620, the Mayflower Compact was signed by the passengers of the Mayflower, laying the foundation for all the democratic institutions of America. The signing of this document has been called one of the most important acts known to history.

Three hundred and fifty-eight years later, the descendants of those signers, Society of Mayflower Descendants, celebrates Annual Compact Day with a noon luncheon on November 11 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial in Grosse Pointe, Mich. Mrs. Lester Hall of Massachusetts, former Historian General of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, will be the speaker.

The General Society reports 18,000 total membership from Maine to Hawaii; 350 being affiliated with the Michigan Society. Members are invited to attend and bring guests to this luncheon meeting.

Vike Cagers Lose 2 Last Week

by Joe Schrader

The Viking Girl's Basketball team dropped two tough contests last week to MHS-conference foes, the first here at home against Charlevoix, 35-32, then traveled to Petoskey to lose to the Northmen, in what Coach Merelee Cheney termed a "rough game", 64-36.

Even though the Vikes lost to Charlevoix, Coach Cheney lauded her squad for "a tremendous team effort, particularly on defense." Coach Cheney noted that Charlevoix is probably the leading offensive scoring team in the conference and the Vikes held them to a minimum of points. Sherri Reed led the offensive attack with 15 points and also raked 20 rebounds off the boards while Karen Hanson added 10 points.

In the Thursday night loss to Petoskey, Karen Hanson poured in 10 points to lead the offense and Regina Methner hauled down 15 rebounds. In JV action, Charlevoix handed Grayling a 35-15 defeat but the squad rebounded in Petoskey to win by a 21-17 score.

School News

Last week, Mr. Tarr, a forester from the DNR came to Mrs. McEvers' fourth grade science class and told about the forest. He brought some aerial maps of Crawford County. He showed us how to find rivers, roads, trails, lakes, and other things. We drew some maps of the county and parts of the city. And we want him to come again.

Supreme Court Candidate Visits Grayling

by Joe Schrader

Gary R. McDonald, a Michigan Supreme Justice candidate in next month's election, visited Grayling earlier this month in his campaign to fill a seat on the highest judicial bench in the State.

McDonald, Circuit Judge in Saginaw County, former District Judge for the same area, will be vying on this year's ballot for two posts to be filled, along with G. Mennen Williams, Alice Gilbert and James Ryan. He was first elected District Judge in Saginaw County in 1972. He was reelected in 1974 and in 1976 was elected Circuit Judge. He established the first closed circuit television arrangement system in the State of Michigan, and helped develop the first design of a fully integrated, completely computerized criminal justice information system in the State.

Active in community affairs, McDonald holds a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Michigan and a Law Degree from Wayne State University. He's also a member of numerous professional organizations. Prior to his election as District Judge in Saginaw County, he was engaged in private law practice there for the previous seven years.

Upon his nomination to the Michigan Supreme Court, his home-town newspaper said, "There can be little doubt it's premised to a great extent on McDonald's very solid judicial record ..."

McDonald was accompanied on his Grayling visit by his wife, Barbara. They have three children, two boys and a girl.

Free Teaching Packets Now Available

by Merrily Baldwin
Extension Home Economist
Civic organizations, clubs, study groups, or private neighborhood gatherings may want to take advantage of a free teaching series now available through Michigan State University's Roscommon - Crawford County Cooperative Extension office.

"There are 96 topics, each intended as educational programs for groups or individuals. This is one of the educational methods used by the university to promote lifelong learning and extend knowledge beyond the campus," says Merrily Baldwin, MSU Extension home economist in Roscommon-Crawford Counties.

The teaching packets require an approximate two-hour, or less, meeting time. They may include discussion guides and handouts, visual aids and reference material. Topic lists and content descriptions are now available through the Roscommon-Crawford County Extension office. Orders must be placed six weeks in advance of the meeting date. The packets may be used one week before being mailed back to MSU. Instructions appear in the back of the brochure.

A sample listing of available packets follows:

Clothing—Energy and clothing: shopping for children's shoes; American woman, 200 years of authentic fashion; commentary on color and you.

Foods and Nutrition—Safety and reliability in health and nutrition; governmental food protection agencies; nutrition labeling: what's in it for you?; foods, fads and fallacies; food to grow on; nutrition from newborn through teens.

Housing and Home Environment—Your space and mine, a behavioral approach to environments; making simple repairs on wood furniture; window fabrics; decorating on a shoe-string.

Resource Management: Meeting the energy crisis at home; learn to manage money; laundry techniques to save energy.

Family Life—Value clarification: developing self-esteem in you and your family; impact of television on children; resources for older Americans.

Health Care—Most relevant to breast cancer and self-examination; menopause, health insurance, health care and health maintenance organizations.

Other topics appear for persons interested in controlling house and garden pests; also sessions on horticulture, bicycling, learning to study efficiently, and getting to know Africa.

Provide Protein
Most American diets are surprisingly low in protein. Experts recommend 60 grams of protein a day for adults and between 75 and 100 for teenagers.

Notice of Public Hearing

A public hearing will be held by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners on Monday, November 13, at 1:30 p.m. for the purpose of accepting written and oral opinions regarding the use of General Revenue Sharing monies. The hearing will be held in the meeting room of the Crawford County Building.

Crawford County will receive $157,256.00 in Federal Revenue Sharing during Entitlement Period 10, which covers the 12 month period between October 1, 1978 and September 30, 1979. The payments will be received in quarterly installments beginning January 1, 1979.

Crawford County intends to use the Revenue monies toward the Public Safety category (Sheriff Department) of the General Fund Budget for the calendar year 1979. The proposed Sheriff's Department Budget for 1979 is $239,979.00. The Revenue Sharing funds would be applied toward this total, upon approval hearing.

A summary of the proposed uses of Revenue Sharing funds and a summary of the proposed Crawford County Budget are available for public inspection during normal business hours at the office of the Crawford County Treasurer.

Editor's Mailbox

Editor Crawford County Avalanche Sir: Now that the time is approaching when Michigan voters will have to decide on the merits of Proposal D, I would like to try to speak for the 18 to 20 year olds this will effect. The majority of us are responsible people. We don't drive when drunk, and have not been involved in an accident while drinking. Out of all the drivers on Michigan highways the 18 to 20 year old driver has the best driving record. In 1972 one percent of all accidents in the 18 to 21 year old age bracket were alcohol related. In 1977 one percent of all accidents were alcohol related. This is with well over 40,000 drivers between 18 and 21 added to the highway. I would say that's a pretty good record. According to insurance company estimates the majority of drivers that are involved in alcohol related accidents are male drivers between the ages of 20 to 25. If we are going to accept the pro 21 logic we should raise the drinking age to 25 for males and leave it at 19 for females. That makes about as much sense as raising it to 21. Many people say since there is no more draft we might as well raise the drinking age. Can anybody promise there won't be a draft again? Can you promise there won't be another war? How about this, raise the draft age to 21. Then those who are old enough to die will be old enough to drink.

Something that nobody seems to be thinking of is the employment problem this is going to cause. Has anybody stopped to think what the 18 to 20 year olds that are working in restaurants that serve liquor are going to do for a job? Or the check out person at your local supermarket? How about the people working in a bar waiting tables? Of course I'm sure the wise people who are sponsoring this proposal have got that all figured out. And please don't say there are always other jobs, because there usually aren't.

I personally resent the implication that I can not decide when I will drink and when I will not. If I am capable of holding a job, driving a car, and voting in an election I think I am capable of deciding if I want to have a drink with my dinner. It is ludicrous to tell me I am not mature enough to walk into a public place and have a drink, but I am mature enough to get a job in a factory, or choose a president. Raising the drinking age to 19 is a good idea. It will stop some of the drinking by individuals still in school. But 21? It's a joke. Those who have been drinking legally for two years are not going to stop now. Only, instead of drinking where there is at least some control, a bar or college party, they'll be cruising in cars and drinking in the woods.

True, the U.S. has an alcohol problem, but raising the drinking age to 21 is not going to stop the problem. The only way we are going to change the U.S. alcohol problem is by education in the early grades of school. This could be ongoing training that is carried out over all a child's school years. Then there should be a test just like getting a license to drive a car or a hunting permit when you're young. Before you could obtain alcohol you would have to be licensed to drink. Believe it or not some 18 year olds are better capable of drinking than 50 year olds. But, I realize this is impractical. Freedom loving Americans wouldn't stand for regulation like that. So, for now, why don't you "Adults" clean up your act? Everybody makes their own choices, but just where do you think kids get their role models from? Terri Crawford

Sweet Adelines Activities

Mid-Mitten Chapter met at the Houghton Lake Playhouse Tuesday, October 24, for their weekly rehearsal. Much fun and work was put into rehearsal to shape up our "Fun Night" scheduled for Saturday, October 28. Halloween seems to bring out the pranks in all of us! We are so happy to welcome back Sue Krause to our ranks and Mary McLean transferred her membership from "Lake-Aire Chapter" of LaPorte, Indiana to Mid-Mitten Chapter. We really are happy to have both girls with us to add to our chorus. Sue was immediately put to work for a specialty act in our mini-show.

Singing dates are being lined up for the coming Christmas season and we are making plans to pay a surprise visit to a neighboring chapter.

Girl Scout Council Meets

The annual meeting of the Big Waters Girl Scout Council was held on Wednesday, October 18, in Alpena. The business meeting was opened with a flag ceremony by girls of Troop 50, led by Helen Blewett and Troop 28, led by Carlene Gentry. Reports were then given by board members on credentials - Judy Stillion; Calendars and Camp - Florence Tripp; Field-Marilynn Donnelly; Program - Judy Dennis; Cookies - Arlene Thomas; and the Council Self-Evaluation Task Force - Laura Lickleig.

A presentation of "The Three M's" of a Girl Scout Council was given by Mabel Webb, Interim Executive Director, and board members Marilyn Donnelly - Management; Judy Stillion Membership; and Roger Mendel - Money. Following the presentation the proposal for Big Waters Girl Scout Council to merge with Mitten Bay Girl Scout Council was presented to the delegation. The proposal was accepted by a 17 to 9 vote.

The membership looks forward to joining forces with the Mitten Bay Council to provide more and better scouting to the girls of the Big Waters Area. Delegates attending from Grayling were - Barbara Brooks, Betty Cdebach, Dorretta Adkins, Cheryl Vanderstell, and Richard Vanderstell.
